Gatton Park

Gatton Park is a beautiful parkland with a rich history located in the Surrey Hills.

The estate was designed by renowned English landscape architect 'Capability' Brown and has a Japanese garden and a Victorian parterre. The park provides a range of habitats which are home to some stunning wildlife.

Our corporate supporters enable us to make progress with restoring this historic estate. There are many wonderful opportunities to get involved.

The Surrey Mirror

The Gatton Trust is a registered charity. All income from companies supports the care and conservation of our heritage estate and our learning and community outreach programmes.

Volunteering

We love to engage with local companies on outdoor volunteering projects.

Projects can be tailored to your group and involve conservation or maintenance work. Our trained staff and volunteers will guide you through every step of your task.

We can provide a risk assessment for the task of your choice.

*‘Huge thanks for the day;
we all had an absolutely brilliant time.’*

Just Group

Just Group volunteered for a day in autumn 2018. The team helped to construct a shed in Cedar Wood.

Volunteer projects

Project guide

- New garden features
- Scrub clearance
- Maintenance of historic gardens
- Path building/restoration
- Woodland management
- Planting projects
- Fence building
- Meadow management

The size of your group will help to determine the project focus.

Get involved

Once we have identified a suitable project for your group, you can choose how you would like to contribute to our restoration work. For example, you could sponsor new plants, building materials or tools.

We also invite our supporters to sponsor our biggest event of the year, the Gatton Country Fair.

Country Fair Sponsorship

- Company logo on materials
- Social media and press
- Your own stall
- Family passes
- A bespoke corporate family day out at Gatton Park

The Gatton Country Fair in July is our flagship, family-friendly event which attracts around 1,500 visitors.

Team building

We can offer you a memorable team building experience at Gatton Park.
